“The expertise of the faculty members was second to none. All of the materials were presented in an interesting, enlightening manner and all of the lecturers fostered a dynamic and engaging learning environment that made the sharing of information both enjoyable and effective. The curriculum was robust, relevant and highly topical, exposing the class to the wide spectrum of issues that boards must grapple with...from strategy and M&As to succession planning, executive compensation, governance and ethics. Complementing this were the real-life case studies that provided a practical foundation for productive discussion and debate.”

— JOHN GORDON, Methanex Corporation, Vancouver DEP 7 Graduate
